

A sustainable approach to enhancing the experience of NESB (non English Speaking Background) students

This program developed and trialled a structured sustainable program to enhance NESB student experiences in their first year at QUT. The Project focused on improving access and participation in learning activities in order to increase the success rate for NESB students in a unit requiring teamwork. That is, by addressing communication barriers, providing practical strategies and raising awareness of the broader social issues, this program aimed to increase the awareness of all students of the benefits of a multi-cultural university experience.

This presentation will provide background information about the project and the key factors in its success.
