

Internationalising Schools

Felicity Fallon, Terry McGrath

The workshop addresses the interests and needs of those working with international students at the secondary school level. It has three main emphases: how to enable both the international and the local students to gain the most from the presence of international students in the school, academic and classroom management issues and the support and welfare issues associated with the education of younger international students.