

Inspiring change - Working with new partners

5 December 2019

International Student Welfare Program

International Student Welfare Program

International Student Welfare Program: Meet NGV

International Student Welfare Program: Meet NGV

International Student Welfare Program: Badminton Victoria

Scene setting for today

Dana Wu
Project Manager,
OutBeyond

Today's Panellists

George Halkias
Special Projects
Manager, City in the Community

Gina Chinnery
National Vocational
Services Manager,
Orygen

Iain Finlayson
Development Manager,
Melbourne Writers
Festival

International Students Football Program launch

Today's Panellists

George Halkias
Special Projects
Manager, City in the Community

Gina Chinnery
National Vocational
Services Manager,
Orygen

Iain Finlayson
Development Manager,
Melbourne Writers
Festival

Impact measurement project: telling our story with quality data

Student Initiatives OLM

How impact measurement applies to today's projects

Outcome	City in the Community	Orygen	Melbourne Writers Festival
International students are more aware of their rights & responsibilities			X
Increased employability/ career readiness			X
International students feel more connected & confident living in Victoria	X	X	X
International students increase personal & professional networks	X	X	X
Enhanced cultural competence for international students & employers	X		X
International students have a positive attitude toward studying & working in Victoria	X	X	X
Job creation & growth			X
Reduced risk of exploitation & discrimination for international students
International students participate and are included in the Victorian economy & society		X	X
Improved health and wellbeing of International students	X	X	X

Inspiring change - Working with new partners

- Observations
- Q & A

International Student Welfare Program: Next Steps

- One more funding round for 2019-20
- ISWP Conference

Contact:

James Borman

Senior Project Manager, International Education

Department of Jobs, Precincts and Regions

T: +61 (3) 9651 9578 | E: james.borman@global.vic.gov.au